

Media Research Center

“The mission of Media Research Center is to bring political balance to the nation’s news and entertainment media. Founded in 1987, the Media Research Center has grown into the largest, most comprehensive media monitoring operation in the world.”
(Taken from www.mediaresearch.org)

Media Research Center is a non-profit, grassroots organization whose mission is to educate the public by exposing, countering and neutralizing the liberal bias of the national news media.

These donors support our liberty and prosperity, and want to preserve our freedom of speech! These contributors are strongly opposed to President Obama and his fellow socialists in congress, who are determined to transform America into a socialist state.

In addition to defending our freedoms, these donors support conservative organizations and Christian establishments.
